A jar full of life

About us

Our Vita story is a result of many years of producing vegetables and fruits. The traditional recipe and the care for each jar to have a high quality makes our products to have a perfect and fresh taste with every bite.

We turn good things from nature into the very best food products.

If you like good food, you will love Vita products. Discover the diverse range of delicious taste experiences with our quality products. As a family-run company with many years of experience Hortena is committed to tradition, but we also strive for constant innovation. You can see clear evidence of this in our product range and with developing our own brand Vita.

As a family business, we take responsibility – because we believe it's the right thing to do.

What we aspire to: using a small number of good quality raw materials and ingredients to create the very best products. It is precisely this that also forms the basis for the Vita brand company motto: "A jar full of life".

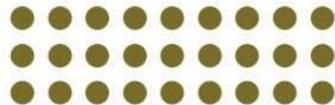

We love being a part of this tradition, which goes back several generations.

Every time one of our products is used, we know that a family is getting together, a group of friends are meeting up, or someone is taking time out alone to enjoy some delicious food

Pickles

Vita pickles are carefully selected gherkins produced in controlled environment by Hortena.

Our gherkins are grown in highest quality soil made with materials that are quality proven, selected, specified and then put into production by the traditional recipe to save the taste that is kept for years.

The annual harvest of cucumbers for the popular pickled gherkins starts in June. A job that requires a lot of skill and, above all, a lot of staff.

The plants are too sensitive for mechanical harvesting. The workers harvest the vegetables by hand, then the fresh field crops are put into the glass as quickly as possible.

A major challenge when processing pickling cucumbers is that it is not possible to preserve the original taste wicch we think we have achieve it.

Pickles

We divide them by classes, first, second and third class, spaced in glass(jars) with different quantities that weight.

and the whole process is monitored by certified staff.

Peppers

As a company that produces a few types of peppers we are committed to grow the best, with quality that cannot be compared to anything and our top priorities above all peppers is Fillets.

Since we all know that food is fundamental need there for, we pay great attention to achieving the very best in quality – from the sustainable cultivation of raw materials through to careful processing methods for our natural products. Keeping the bigger picture in mind, we adapt every single step in the manufacturing process to the requirements of our current times. The consistently high quality of Vita's products is a direct result of this unique combination of factors.
